

Brandenburg Gate

Description

The Brandenburg Gate in Berlin is one of Germany's most famous landmarks. Standing 26 meters tall, it was commissioned by the Prussian King Friedrich Wilhelm II and built by Carl G. Langhans between 1788 and 1791. After over 200 years of existence, the gate still stands as a symbol of the division then reunification of Germany and welcomes Berlin's visitors.

Metadata

- Landmarks: Monuments
- GPS Coordinates: 52.5163° N, 13.3777° E
- City: Berlin
- Country: Germany
- Land Surface in Square Meters: 715
- Cadastral Number: DE.L.M.B.1